

Architects: EDEN architects

Structural Engineer: Robert Barry Consulting Engineers

Contractor: Sandu Miron

Photographer: Paul Tierney

Brief: To refurbish a two storey mid terrace two bedroom house. The small house was reconfigured on both floors to create a meandering sequence of open overlapping spaces with all critical storage and sanitary spaces concealed along edges. The garden end of the newly extended ground floor dining and living space provided the opportunity to create a private enclosed patio at first floor level. A set of external steps links the patio with the garden. Creating linked external spaces at both levels completes the chain of internal spaces and gives a greater sense of space and versatility to the whole house.

